RE: JAMES MILLS

Interviewed John F. Lynch of 46 Lewis Street.
He is Building Inspector of this City.

Lynch informed me that when the story came out that James Mills claimed that he had no knowledge of the relationship existing between his wife and Dr. Hall, he happened to be at Fire Headquarters when some of the men were discussing the matter. During the conversation someone remarked in substance that if Jim Mills did not suspect his wife it was strange that he took the trouble to prowl around Buccleuch Park at night with a flash light, shining it into people's faces, etc. Lynch does not recall who made the remark but says he thinks that Captain Fox was present at the time and he might recall.

Further that the man who made the remark had said that the bartender in Strickland's saloon claimed that he and a lady friend had been in Buccleuch Park one evening when a flashlight had been thrown upon them and that the bartender had recognized Jim Mills as the man who held the light.

I am following up this matter.

Respectfully yours,

David Thompson
